

General Provident Fund

General Provident Fund (GPF) account is a provident fund account which is available for government employees. The accumulation in the fund is paid to the government employee at the time of resignation, superannuation or retirement. General Provident Fund (GPF): A minimum of 6% of your basic pay is deducted as a contribution. The scheme provides a pension after retirement or to a nominee upon death of the employee as per provisions of CCS (Pension) rules.